

STEWART

of GRANDTULLY

ALEXANDER STEWART, 1ST OF GRANDTULLY, was younger son of Sir John Stewart of Innermeath and Lorn, and was shield-bearer to Archibald, Earl of Douglas, from whom he had a charter for the lands of Grandtully, Kyltullych and Aberfeldy, all in the Abthainery of Dull and sheriffdom of Perth, on 30 March 1414, with remainder to himself and the heirs male of his own body, which failing, to his father, Sir John Stewart, Lord of Lorn, and his heirs male.¹ He also acquired the lands of Carnbo, in Strathearn, from Christiana de Mure, Lady of Brintscheils by charter of 1 June 1419.²

He m. Margaret, daughter of John Hay of Tulliebody, with whom he had a charter for the lands of Banchry from her brother, John Hay of Tulliebody, in contemplation of their marriage on 15 July 1416³ and d. before 10 July 1449. He was father of :

THOMAS STEWART, 2ND OF GRANDTULLY, had succeeded his father by 19 July 1449 when he entered into an agreement with William, Abbot of Coupar Angus, concerning the marches of the lands of Murthly,⁴ and had a grant of part of the lands of Comrie in 1452. He was included in the remainder of an entail for in the Lordship of Lorn in the same year⁵ and d. in 1453/54 having had issue;

ALEXANDER STEWART, 3RD OF GRANDTULLY, succeeded on his father's death in 1453 but being under age, his lands fell to the crown and his ward was gifted by the king to John Stewart of Fortingal.⁶ His lands remained in ward in 1460⁷ and he appears to have attained his majority by 13 May 1462 when on that date, he was served heir to his father in the lands of Grandtully on 13 May 1462.⁸ He also had service as heir to him in those of Banchrie on 2 June following.⁹
